

Lynch School of Education and Human Development

Immigration, Education, and Humanitarian Studies Minor For Lynch School Students only

The Lynch School of Education and Human Development (LSEHD) Immigration, Education, and Humanitarian Studies minor consists of 18 credits, 12 of which may not simultaneously be counted towards the BC core or the requirements of any other major or minor. The minor is designed to advance students' understanding of immigration and related educational and humanitarian topics. Students will explore introductory and mastery level coursework, select electives from various departments, and engage in applied action projects and special topics research specially designed every year. Students are encouraged to choose electives from the list below to curate focal areas and may request approval for electives not listed below. Students are encouraged to check "EagleApps Course Information and Schedule" to research course offerings.
