

OBITUARIES

John J. Cabral dies in crash off south China Sea

MIDDLETON — Lt. John Joseph Cabral, a Navy pilot in Vietnam and 1959 captain of the St. John's Prep football team, died Friday when his Corsair II plunger, after takeoff from the carrier USS Saratoga...

Lt. Cabral, whose parents Mr. and Mrs. Jaime P. Cabral live on Boston street in Middleton, entered the Navy in 1967 after working at AVCO Corp. in Wilmington for four years.

He attended Boston College on a Presidential Scholarship as a physics major, graduated cum laude in 1963, and was elected to Sigma Pi Sigma, the honorary physics fraternity.

He leaves his wife, Mary B. (Kelly), formerly of Somerville; a son, John Philip; a brother, Dr. James C. Cabral, a former Navy flight surgeon, of La Jolla, Calif., and two sisters, Mrs. Delores Nangle of Salem and Mrs. Linda Pirrotta of Danvers.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending return of Lt. Cabral's body to Middleton.

Alec Strzepek Was state official

ADAMS — A funeral Mass will be said tomorrow morning at 8:30 in St. Stanislaus Church here for Alec J. Strzepek, 64, a former member of the Massachusetts Emergency Finance Board and a former superintendent of streets in Adams.

Mr. Strzepek, a resident of 15 Victory st., Adams, died Tuesday in the W. B. Plunkett Memorial Hospital here.

Burial will be in St. Stanislaus Cemetery, Adams. A lifelong resident of Adams, Mr. Strzepek was a graduate of Adams High School and was superintendent of streets in his home town from 1948 to 1954.

He later became president of the East Side Construction Co. of Adams, a firm that was liquidated in 1958.

Mr. Strzepek, who was active in the Democratic Party, was chairman of the Adams Democratic Town Committee for 20 years. He was also former president of the East Side Citizens Club and a member of St. Stanislaus parish.

In April 1952, former Massachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo appointed Mr. Strzepek to a three-year term on the state Emergency Finance Board.

He leaves his wife, Sophie (Rymarski); two sons, John of Pittsfield and David of Adams; two daughters, Mrs. Casimir Jozefiak and Mrs. Edward Kozielec; and a sister, Mrs. Andrew Krawiec of South Hadley.

Thomas McVey Granite co. founder

A funeral Mass for Thomas H. McVey, 94, of 22 Sparhawk st., Brighton, will be celebrated in St. Columbkille's Church, Brighton, at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

FATHER AND SON — Howard D. Johnson Sr. (left) and his son, Howard Jr., president of firm, tested one of their famous 28 flavors at party in Quincy last January. Celebration was held by Quincy Chamber of Commerce to mark installation of plaque at site of first Howard Johnson's store. (Globe photo by Ed Jenner)

Rites tomorrow for Howard Johnson

Funeral services for Howard D. Johnson, the restaurant and motel chain magnate, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the First Parish Church, 535 Canton av., Milton.

The entrepreneur who turned 28 flavors of ice cream and an orange roof into a national institution died Tuesday at a New York City hospital at the age of 75.

Mr. Johnson founded his first roadside shop in the Wollaston section of Quincy when he was 27, and became an international figure in the restaurant business.

The chain he created in 1924 today includes 438 motels and 871 restaurants. His first restaurant was established in Washington in the 1930s.

Mr. Johnson retired from the company in 1959, and it is now headed by his son, Howard B. Johnson.

The elder Johnson made his first batch of vanilla ice cream by imitating his mother's recipe and, though he developed 28 flavors, he once said: "I've spent my life on scores of flavors and yet most people still say, 'I'll take vanilla.'"

He believed that ice cream was not fattening. He ate at least a cone a day and kept 19 flavors in the freezer of his Manhattan penthouse and his home in Milton.

The founder was Peabody policeman

SALEM — A funeral Mass for Sgt. Gustaf Swaczyl, 46, a Peabody policeman for 19 years, will be celebrated at 9 a.m. tomorrow in St. John's Church, Peabody.

Mr. Swaczyl died Tuesday at Salem Hospital. He lived most of his life in Peabody before moving to Salem.

awarded a plaque earlier this year at the Wollaston site of his first stand.

Some of the restaurants are operated independently under a license agreement. When he decided to sell franchises, Johnson controlled the stores' design and operation and created a food and commissary system.

When the automobile came to dominate American transportation, Mr. Johnson responded to the demand for a dependable roadside eating place. He stressed uniform food, courteous service and clean restrooms.

After his retirement Mr. Johnson kept his studied eye on his restaurants, and occasionally could be seen on the highway in a company car with a vanity plate that read "HJ-28."

Traveling incognito, he would patronize an unsuspecting restaurant, inspect the food, check the restrooms, and note any shortcomings — such as a discourteous waitress.

During his more active years, Mr. Johnson sensed that the food preferences of Americans were becoming more sophisticated, but only in some respects.

"If you say Halibut Danite," he once remarked, "the average American will never buy it, but if you say halibut with cream and tomato sauce, he'll not only buy it but say it's great."

Droney requests inquest into death of 4-year-old girl

Middlesex County Dist. Atty. John J. Droney said yesterday he will request an inquest into the death of four-year-old Shirlette Locklear, of Washington, DC, who reportedly strangled to death while she waited for her parents to come out of the Natick Police Station last Thursday.

Droney said he will make the request of Judge H. Edward Snow of the Natick District Court in an effort to determine how the child died while she waited in the family car.

Her father George J. Locklear had been taken into the station to be booked by State Police for defrauding an employer in Cambridge. His wife accompanied him.

Cancer survivors more help, doctors

By Herbert Black Globe Staff

ATLANTA — Cancer must become an acceptable word so that increasing numbers of cured men and women can be employed, insured and received back into society, Dr. William M. Markel of New York, vice president of the American Cancer Society, said here last night.

There are more than 1.5 million cured cancer patients in the United States today, and the figure will rise to 2 million over the next 24 months, Markel said.

"Cured cancer patients have difficulty obtaining employment, buying life insurance or becoming socially acceptable because so many people fail to understand that cancer is many diseases, some of which are curable today," Markel said.

Some insurance companies and some employers are beginning to realize this fact, he said, but more educational work programs to be done in the future.

Markel's remarks came on the eve of the first National Conference on Human Values and Cancer, sponsored by the American Cancer Society, which opens here this morning.

The conference will explore methods of improving the quality of life for cancer survivors.

"The problem up to now has been mostly one of trying to keep people alive," Markel said.

Announcement of the week-long trip was made yesterday by Dr. Roger O. Egeberg, special consultant to President Nixon on health affairs. In testimony before a House subcommittee, Egeberg said the agreement "has the potential to be of vast importance to the health and well-being of all people."

Among the cooperative activities authorized by the May 23 US-Soviet agreement on cooperation in the field of medical science and public health are:

— Joint studies; — Exchanges of information, techniques and research protocols; — Organization of conferences, lectures and scientific symposia.

Development of direct contacts between individual scientists, scientific medical societies and editorial boards of medical journals.

Exchange of reagents, biological material, drugs and possibly the joint development of new medical scientific equipment.

The five specialists are: Dr. Charles Zubrod, scientific director for chemotherapy, and Stephen E. Carter, chief of the cancer therapy evaluation branch, both with the National Cancer Institute (NCI); Dr. Oleg Selawski, chief of the NCI-Veterans Administration medical oncology branch; Joseph H. Bach, chief, vice president of Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research; and Dr. Louis Wasserman, chief of the department of hematology at Mount Sinai Hospital in New York.

In addition Dr. Edward E. David Jr., director of the White House Office of Science and Technology, will head a delegation leaving for Moscow July 2 to begin formal implementation of the Moscow summit agreement on science and technology.

David will be accompanied by Dr. James B. Fisk, president of Bell Laboratories, and Eugene Fulbright, former vice president of IBM, and a group of government specialists. They will spend six days in Moscow.

David said there are two important aspects of the science and technology agreement.

"Instead of merely exchanging people, we are now undertaking a joint program," he said.

In addition, he said, the agreement is being undertaken under a framework where there has been a practical decision to implement the agreement.

Exchange of reagents, biological material, drugs and possibly the joint development of new medical scientific equipment.

The five specialists are: Dr. Charles Zubrod, scientific director for chemotherapy, and Stephen E. Carter, chief of the cancer therapy evaluation branch, both with the National Cancer Institute (NCI); Dr. Oleg Selawski, chief of the NCI-Veterans Administration medical oncology branch; Joseph H. Bach, chief, vice president of Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research; and Dr. Louis Wasserman, chief of the department of hematology at Mount Sinai Hospital in New York.

In addition Dr. Edward E. David Jr., director of the White House Office of Science and Technology, will head a delegation leaving for Moscow July 2 to begin formal implementation of the Moscow summit agreement on science and technology.

David will be accompanied by Dr. James B. Fisk, president of Bell Laboratories, and Eugene Fulbright, former vice president of IBM, and a group of government specialists. They will spend six days in Moscow.

Instead of merely exchanging people, we are now undertaking a joint program," he said.

Pope says God selected him to suffer in troubled church

Associated Press

VATICAN CITY — Pope Paul VI said in an emotionally-charged speech yesterday that he felt God had chosen him to suffer in a Church troubled by political and social changes.

He ordered also that any wage loss be submitted to arbitration and that union representatives be consulted before any work practices are changed.

The Boston Shipping Assn. had gone to court yesterday to get a temporary restraining order to halt the work stoppage.

He spoke for about half an hour to a cheering crowd of 8000 in the Vatican's mid-afternoon audience hall. The Pope, who has been moved to tears by his struggles to faith and reality, spoke inside the Vatican's St. Peter's Basilica.

He had received 100,000 telegrams and 100,000 letters of support since he was elected in June 1963.

He said he felt God had chosen him to suffer in a Church troubled by political and social changes.

Belchertown aides back parents

Belchertown — The superintendent's council at Belchertown is backing parents' resolution as superintendent to Dr. Milton Green-

Last Alarm

LATE DEATH NOTICES

MARTIN — In Waltham, June 21, 1972, Alfred J., beloved husband of Virginia A. (Dyer), and father of Mrs. Ann McSweeney, Dolores, Virginia, Patrice, Beth, Michael, John, Brian Martin, and brother of Mrs. Dolores Deegan of Silver Spring Md., Mrs. Eunice Combelle of Saratoga, Calif., Mrs. Aloysie Brant and John Martin of Tucson, Ariz. Funeral from the John J. Greene (Wm. J. Cox) Funeral Home, 431 Trapelo Rd., on Saturday, at 9:15 a.m. Funeral Mass in the Church of St. Luke at 10 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited. Visiting hours, Thursday, 7-9, and Friday, 2-4, and 7-9. Late employee RCA Service Co., Business Manager Local No. 1452, I.B.E.W. In lieu of flowers, contributions to the Heart Fund in his name will be appreciated.

McADAMS — Of Revere, June 21, Josephine M. (Keen), of 97 Eustice st., beloved wife of Fred H., mother of Phyllis Coglin of Lynn, and the late Fred A. McAdams. Friends kindly invited to attend Funeral Services in the Pike & Vertuccio Funeral Home, 305 Beach st., Friday at 11 a.m.

MILLER — In Melrose, June 20, Norwood Austin, husband of Lorna (Proudfoot) of 91 Lincoln St., father of Barbara Ahearn of Billerica, Phyllis Brennan of Wakefield, Bernice Gomes of Reading, Allison Burke of North Whitefield, Me.; also 7 grandchildren. Memorial services will be held in the First United Methodist Church, Main St., Melrose, Saturday at 2 p.m. Contributions may be made to a charity of your choice. Late member of the Engineers Blue Room Club of Boston.

MILLIGAN — In San Pedro, Calif., June 19, Alice (Malloch), formerly of Needham, widow of Duane Milligan and sister of Joseph D. Malloch of Needham. Visiting hours at the Eaton Funeral Home, 135 Highland Ave., Needham, Thursday 7-9. Funeral Mass at St. Joseph Church, Friday, June 23, at 9 a.m.

MURRAY — Of Hingham, June 21, Phyllis M. (Kenney), wife of Frederick A. Murray, of 59 Hobart St., age 55, mother of Carolyn and Marilyn Murray of the home address. Memorial funeral services, Friday, June 23, at 7:30 p.m. from the Hingham Congregational Church. Calling hours & flowers omitted. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in her memory to the New England Deaconess Hospital, 185 Pilgrim rd., Boston.

PIPPING — Of West Roxbury, June 21, Hattie (Schortmann) wife of the late George H. Pipping, residence 12 Schortmann Terrace. Services at Folsom Funeral Home, 87 Milton St., DEDHAM, Friday at 11 a.m. Relatives and friends invited. Visiting hours Thursday 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. In lieu of flowers donations in her memory may be sent to the First Church in Dedham Unitarian or the charity of your choice.

RILEY — Of Milton, June 21, William A. Riley of 34 Meredith Circle, beloved husband of Helen (Barrett) Riley, father of Mrs. George W. (Elaine) Lansing Jr. of Milton, and Miss Jean B. Riley of Milton; also survived by three grandchildren, George W. Lansing 3d, Ellen B., and Elizabeth T. Lansing, all of Milton; brother of Mrs. Herman H. (Gertrude) Currier and Mrs. William J. (Marian) Raines. Funeral from the J. E. Cole and Gleason Milton Home for Funerals, 5 Canton Av. at Milton Village on Saturday at 9 a.m. Funeral Mass at St. Elizabeth's Church at 10 a.m. Relatives and friends invited. Visiting hours Thursday 7-9 and Friday 3-4 and 7-9. Interment at Milton Cemetery.

RUMLEY — Of Dorchester, June 21, Lillian A., beloved mother of Mrs. Frances Manning, and William Rumley, sister of John Rumley, also

OBITUARIES

John J. Cabral dies in crash off south China Sea

MIDDLETON — Lt. John Joseph Cabral, a Navy pilot in Vietnam and 1959 captain of the St. John's Prep football team, died Friday when his Corsair II plunged into the South China Sea shortly after takeoff from the carrier USS Saratoga.

Lt. Cabral, whose parents Mr. and Mrs. Jaime F. Cabral live on Boston street in Middleton, entered the Navy in 1967 after working at AVCO Corp. in Wilmington for four years.

He attended Boston College on a Presidential Scholarship as a physics major, graduated cum laude in 1963, and was elected to Sigma Pi Sigma, the honorary physics fraternity.

He leaves his wife, Mary B. (Kelly), formerly of Somerville; a son, John Philip; a brother, Dr. James C. Cabral, a former Navy flight surgeon, of La Jolla Calif., and two sisters, Mrs. Delores Nangle of Salem and Mrs. Linda Pirrotta of Danvers.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending return of Lt. Cabral's body to Middleton.

FATHER AND SON — Howard and his son, Howard Jr., of their famous 28 flavors

Alec Strzeppek
Was state official

Rites ton